

Look at the pictures below and write at least 2 sentences to tell a story.

1 Jimmy listened to his friend's ideas for the class presentation. He thought, "Wow, great ideas", and used them for his own presentation. After the class, he got "A" for his presentation but he lost a friend.

2 _____

3 _____

4 _____

5 _____

6 _____

Possible stories.

2. Jamie Sapphire, the CEO of a big company, was so excited, he forgot to put on his pants before giving a speech to his employees. It was embarrassing, and everyone was laughing. Jamie Sapphire was so embarrassed that he ran out of the room and into his office, where he locked the door. He sat at her desk, trying to calm down, but he could still hear the laughter of his employees.

3. Jack arrived home to find a broken window and her jewelry missing. She realized that someone had broken into her home. She immediately called the police and filed a report. The police told her that they would do their best to find her belongings and catch the thief.

4. Chloe had a dilemma. She didn't know what color to paint the room. She painted one wall red and another wall green, but she still couldn't decide. She thought about it for a while and then she had an idea. She would paint one wall blue and the other wall yellow. When she was finished, she stepped back to admire her work. The room looked bright and cheerful. She was happy with her decision.

5. Jackson, a trainee reporter, wanted to be successful. He was on his way to work at the TV station when he saw a tree fell on a house. Immediately, he took some photos. He called the police and then went to the TV station to tell his boss what had happened. His boss was very impressed and told Jackson that he could go on air and report the story. Jackson was very excited and went to the scene of the accident to do his report.

6. Ken lived in a house near the ocean. One day, he heard a tsunami alarm. He didn't have any time to evacuate, so he climbed onto his roof. He could see the wave coming and it terrified him. He prayed for his life. The wave came crashing down on Ken's house and swept it away. Ken was thrown into the water and pulled under. He struggled to swim to the surface, but the current was too strong. He felt his lungs burning for air and then everything went black. A while later Ken woke up. He was lying on the beach. He must have been swept there by the current. He was alive, but his house was gone.