

Quantifiers for colleagues

Match the words to their meanings.

1. Deadlines	A. To be involved in helping to achieve a goal
2. Working on	B. To be having difficulty accomplishing something
3. Struggling	C. Feeling overwhelmed or anxious due to pressure or demands
4. Stressed	D. A specified time by which something must be completed
5. Contributing	E. To be avoiding or neglecting work or duties
6. Slacking off	F. To offer help or assistance
7. Pitch in	G. To be actively engaged in a task

Listen to the audio and complete the conversation.

Ethan: Hey Abbi, 1 _____ going at the office?

Abbi: It's been busy Ethan. 2 _____ co-workers, have been working hard to meet our 3 _____.

Ethan: That's great to hear. How many projects are you all 4 _____?

Abbi: We have a lot of projects going on right now. 5 _____ are working on, two or three projects at a time.

Ethan: Wow, that sounds like a lot of work. 6 _____ of your co-workers struggling to keep up?

Abbi: 7 _____ of them are having trouble. 8 _____ are feeling a bit stressed, but 9 _____ helping each other out.

Ethan: That's good to know. Are there any co-workers, who aren't contributing as much?

Abbi: 10 _____ are really slacking off. 11 _____ might be taking on a smaller workload, but they're still contributing.

Ethan: Excellent! It sounds like your team is 12 _____ together.

Abbi: Yeah, we 13 _____ and help each other out. It's a great team environment.

Create sentences about workplace activities (you can think of your own ideas) using : “all of”, “most of”, “many of”, “a lot of”, “ some of”, “not many of”, “a few of”, “none of”:

- | | | | |
|------------------|--|-----------------|---------------------------|
| Attend meetings | Work on group projects | Travel for work | Use the latest technology |
| Provide feedback | Participating in team-building activities. | | Conducting research |

1. Most of my colleagues attend meetings each week.

Match the words to their meanings.

1. D. A specified time by which something must be completed
2. G. To be actively engaged in a task
3. B. To be having difficulty accomplishing something
4. C. Feeling overwhelmed or anxious due to pressure or demands
5. F. To offer help or assistance
6. E. To be avoiding or neglecting work or duties
7. A. To be involved in helping to achieve a goal

Listen to the audio and complete the conversation.

1. How's everything 2. All of my 3. Deadlines 4. Working on 5. Most of us 6. Are any 7. Not many 8. A few 9. We're all 10. None of them 11. Some 12. Working well 13. All pitch in

Ethan: Hey Abbi, how's everything going at the office?

Abbi: It's been busy Ethan. All of my co-workers, have been working hard to meet our deadlines.

Ethan: That's great to hear. How many projects are you all working on?

Abbi: We have a lot of projects going on right now. Most of us are working on, two or three projects at a time.

Ethan: Wow, that sounds like a lot of work. Are any of your co-workers struggling to keep up?

Abbi: Not many of them are having trouble. A few are feeling a bit stressed, but we're all helping each other out.

Ethan: That's good to know. Are there any co-workers, who aren't contributing as much?

Abbi: None of them are really slacking off. Some might be taking on a smaller workload, but they're still contributing.

Ethan: Excellent! It sounds like your team is working well together.

Abbi: Yeah, we all pitch in and help each other out. It's a great team environment.

Create sentences about workplace activities.

1. All of the employees in the office are working hard to complete their tasks.
2. Most of the staff in the workplace have been there for many years.
3. Many of the workers have been given extra responsibilities this week.
4. A lot of the team members are collaborating on a new project.
5. Some of the employees are attending a conference this week.
6. Not many of the workers are taking a break today.
7. A few of the staff members are taking part in a training session.
8. None of the workers are allowed to take personal calls during work hours.
9. All of the employees are required to follow the company's dress code.
10. Most of the staff are expected to be punctual and arrive on time.